Summary of Legislation: (Amended) This bill allows the Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) to prohibit the disposal or processing of specific solid waste at a solid waste disposal or processing facility. The bill removes references to "industrial waste" from the law pertaining to solid waste management. It provides that there is no solid waste disposal fee for solid waste disposed in a solid waste landfill permitted to accept restricted waste solely generated by the person to whom the permit is issued. This bill also requires a generator of solid waste to notify a waste-to-energy facility when it ships certain types of solid waste in bulk quantities. The bill requires the Solid Waste Management Board to adopt rules to reflect the elimination and repeal of references to industrial waste and special waste. It also repeals statutes relating to industrial waste.

Effective Date: July 1, 2001.

Explanation of State Expenditures: (Revised) This bill requires the Solid Waste Management Board to adopt rules to reflect the elimination and repeal of references to industrial waste and special waste. IDEM should be able to absorb any additional costs incurred as a result of adopting rules to reflect changes given its current budget.
